Hello!

Thank you so much for your insight. It is scary how accurate you are. My life crumbled in 2020 in every area of my life, I had to rebuild my entire confidence and reframe everything I thought about love, family, friendships, and most importantly my career. This is when I became a lot more spiritual too but also felt a strong ambition. I am currently working hard on proceeding forwards to my north node with determination. There has been a lot of healing, and I know that I will thank myself later in life for having put in so much effort. My relationship with my family(Mother) was at its worst in 2020, now I feel like I am healing a wound that's been there since early youth. Things are becoming better, it's just slow - but I am so thankful for every lesson that is pushing me forwards. Thank you so much.

Thank you so much for this! It helps a lot. Everything you said is so true especially the dominant female (I was raised by a very strict grandma). Again, thank you so much, I'm a baby in astrology and I've learned a lot from you! 😊

Thank you so much for taking the time to read my chart and provide such detailed and insightful interpretation. It really resonates with me, and I appreciate your honesty and expertise in relating the different aspects of my chart to my pursuit of tarot.

I was particularly struck by your observations about my father and my acting confidence, and how they relate to the potential success of a career in tarot.

Additionally, I found it very accurate that you mentioned my need for my opinions to be "the" opinion, and my strive to be respected and considered the best. It's something that I have always been aware of, but it's great to have it confirmed in my chart.

I was wondering if you could clarify your final point about my chart indicating that I may end up far away from where I started. Are you referring to a physical location or something else? I'm curious to know more about what that means for me in relation to pursuing tarot as a career.

Thank you again for sharing your wisdom and guidance.

I also relate to everything you said about Saturn Return. I feel like those lessons that will be brought up align with my goal of more independence. Now, I feel a bit excited!!!! Ahahahha

Thank you so much!!!! I really appreciate it – that was super helpful!!!!!!!

Wow! You have really hit the nail on a lot of things that I am truly in shock!!!!!!! You're amazing. Your reading has really grounded me back in reality because last night I was having a bit of an emotional night. SO thank you very much, I am truly so grateful and appreciative!

I had to take my time reading this, and once again, I'm amazed by astrology. For real, you've read me completely! Everything you've written is on point, from the missing figure of the Father (and that it has, indeed, had a huge impact on me), to all these Libra related things (I really had a lot of opportunities, but yes, that little "something" always messed up the chances of turning it into a real thing), to the conclusion - yes, there is a lot of baggage that I need to understand, accept, and at the very end - get rid off. I'm starting therapy tomorrow, and really hope to work on the issues that have been suffocating me for so long. Thank you a lot for looking into this, all the best for you too, kind internet stranger!

dlovehart OP · 14 hr. ago

Thank you! I do think Saturn has saved me from a lot of undesirable situations and relationships. I'm 27 and I haven't had a romantic partner yet, but I learned around the age of 22 that I didn't want to be in a relationship just for the sake of being in one like some of my peers were doing. My parents divorced when I was young, and frankly, as a child I always wondered why they even were together in the first place. I watched people around me have such toxic relationships and I knew that I didn't want that for myself. I don't have the desire to be friends with, or date someone who doesn't respect my boundaries, or belittles me, because I got enough of that from my family. The description of my father is spot on by the way haha.

I do feel like I teeter totter with having confidence in myself. Sometimes I am able to boost myself up, and hold myself to a high regard, but then I also have self confidence issues and feeling like I'm not good enough, because of people in my immediate family telling me that I'm not good enough when I know that's not the case. Lately I've started to not engage them in this, because I tend to get depressed pretty easily and being in an environment when it seems you aren't wanted can take a toll. I'm optimistic that I will be moving out soon. Thanks again!

Real-Chicken-7795 OP · 4 hr. ago

Yeah my mother and father worked a lot so I was alone often. I always felt bad having to ask for my needs. I feel like my mother sees me as an extension of herself, so she would do things without considering me. My father's tyrannical and emotionally and physically absent. I can't recall a time he was genuinely proud of something I did.

I have been bringing out my repressed emotions bc lockdown has allowed me, it's good to know I'm doing it right thing. Thank you!

Yes, I did! It sparked so many more questions! LOL! I'm super enthralled and feel like I'm even learning a bit more! I truly appreciate your response!!!

DeitzNutzUrMom OP · 1d

I greatly appreciate your take on this! That last part, phew. I don't know if this question is ridiculous as I am not 100% familiar with all of this, but when will the Struggle for survival end, when will Saturn move away from pluto? My biggest fears atm, is Cancer (illness) for some wild reason, and leaving too soon, before my son is old enough to navigate the world on his own. I'm hoping the struggle for survival isn't that.

Yay another fellow Cancer! And Yes!! You nailed it - with my Venus in Leo AND in the first house, I want all that sun shiny beauty and goodness without having to settle for basic lol. But then Neptune enters the chat and reminds me of those rose colored glasses. I'm working on it!

Thank you! And pretty exact on the lashing out. Plus the Aquarius in moon makes it even more intense with emathy.. or lack of it. Hoping Jupiter does have a greater involvement in this case (splitting up a family due to emotional hurt).

beautiful - my virgo placements are so excited to read all these helpful details and create a plan of action asap 😊 yes my father was never present in my life aside from meeting him for the first time when i was 18 - i also have a mother wound which makes sense from my cancer placements i am working to heal. I never really looked too deeply into my venus aspects so i always thought that it was a hinderance - thank you for flipping that script so i can work constructively on changing the rhetoric of my worth and soul!!

DefiantStranger496 OP · 2h

Awesome thanks for replying! This is a lot of good info, I'll definitely be looking into more myself. The very last sentence you wrote, would a career in Psychology make sense then? Aside from asking here I've been doing a lot of shadow work for years, I've taken many personality tests to understand the way my brain works and have even done tarot readings. In all instances, a logical/creative career seems to be what would match best with who I am. I know I need to work on my communication and I'm already looking into college majors. Just tryna really come from all angles to make a very calculated decision for my future with plenty of room for improvement and learning

Thank you that was very eye opening for me, i did change alot since 2014 . Just one question, do you think the pluto transiting in Aquarius will be happening in my 7th house or 8th? Because I'm last degrees ascendant I'm not sure which rising horoscopes should i listen to.

puee955 OP · 45m

i really appreciate this. i want to ask: when you say seperative/overdone, do you mean my reactions can be intense? and also yeah i do feel like i am pretty assertive and can say very blunt words because to me it's the most efficient way to communicate what is needed to be communicated. i'm guessing this really is me and not my anxiety speaking. thank you.

Thank you so much for reading. I never realised before but my dad definitely was too self involved to see me as special other than by virtue of being his progeny. That stings even now.

Thank you so much! That was so thought out and really helpful; I really relate to what you are saying. Especially the part about being in an unassailable position.

I feel a pull towards nursing. However, I failed my last semester and am doing some searching while I wait to get back in. Another career I'm interested in is computer programming/coding, which I can teach myself and do it temporarily (freelance) while also being a nurse.

Equivalent-Option-68 OP · 14h

That's awesome. I definitely resonate with one of those two more, so now I'm at this conundrum with the rectification making sense through different astrology. I really appreciate this !

Equivalent-Option-68 OP · 1h

Hey thank you so much for taking the time to respond. I've never considered Lunar Return / Sun chart- I don't really have familiarity with this concept. Will definitely look into it.

I did not know this about time-zone birth time recording. Not sure if this is appropriate for this sub but my rectifications were done by Vedic astrologers- and it was explained to me why it is the way it is.

It's strange to me but the Western and Vedic seem to better be interpreted by different times.

Indeed, in my Placidus Tropical chart, my ASC goes from Cap to Sag. It would seem simple enough to discern which of the two I am (leaning towards Cap) however I still can't be certain because of both the self-analysis aspect and the fact that the Vedic has shown to be accurate with 1 hour difference - the one that would make me Sag Asc Western.

Thanks again for your insight.

_cosmic_latte_ OP · 1 hr. ago

Thank you so much for this!!! I've definitely felt a lot of this as Saturn has been moving through Aquarius, but expecting it to intensify with Pluto. Will also be experiencing my Saturn return, so anticipating major life lessons. I've been struggling with how to move through my day to day routine (south node Taurus 6H) and how I communicate with myself. My virgo Chiron opposite natal Saturn will definitely be enhancing that sun/Pluto aspect, but your description of the habits was a helpful reframing for my larger personal view point of, "I'm frustrated and can't get anything done," and then am incredibly hard on myself without making (and as a result seeing) changes in this.

Appreciate the insight, thank you again!

Oh my goodness, thank you!! I certainly wasn't expecting this thoughtful and articulate of a response. Thank you for brightening my day, and gifting me with insight that both lands and enlightens. I'm new to this, and didn't realize how much influence the location of each planet (in conjunction with others) carries. Fascinating.

Everything you said is eerily accurate. Cauterize emotions? Spot on. Ouch. Yep. When dealing with conflict or drama, "let's zoom out and look at this from the big picture" is something I'm known to say often.

I've struggled with self-worth my entire life (trauma, planetary, upbringing, whatever the cause) and the "real-world accomplishment as an antidote" observation is spot-on. I need success to feel valued. (I'm a classic enneagram 3 ha)

"Transformative element towards the public" makes me wonder if you're not just a full-blown psychic. :) I'm a former fashion photographer but also a closeted musician my entire life (never shared it, perhaps the Aries rising/pisces moon combo?) now working on recording an album and pushing through fears to get it done. The album theme is transformation, and it is in fact, being written in a safe haven that has ushered in renewal and healing.

Wow. Thank you, again. I'm not usually one for overly-personal ramblings to complete strangers, but I just wanted you to know how much your response meant, and how accurate it was. ❤️❤️

Previous_Chard4311 OP · 18 min. ago

You're so on point i'm actually laughing right now 🤔. With my mother it was more verbal and physical abuse, she was there physically but we don't really have that emotional connection. Conversations are usually short but we get along a bit better now compared to when I was a kid. I mostly spent a lot of time in my room, she had a very short temper so it was kind of like walking on eggshells with her in my childhood.

You hit the nail on the head with the emotional distancing. I took an attachment style test and the results were dismissive avoidant. I did that very recently with I guy I met last year in Nov (He's a Capricorn). He expressed so much interest and chased me for quite a while. It was going well but I guess I got scared and friend-zoned him. We got close very quickly due to mutual sun in the 4h synastry and moon in the 1h synastry. Now I'm starting to think that I like him but I'm not even sure if I really do or if it's just because he's now pulled away a bit. For a while I thought maybe I was just a narcissist because I wasn't able to reciprocate his energy but loved the energy he gave me (I'm able to do it a bit more now, still a struggle though). I tend to self-sabotage and end relationships very abruptly even in my platonic relationships. Interesting that you bring up Mars as well because I do have a habit of provoking love interests. Sometimes I'll poke the bear or throw on the theatrics just to get a reaction to see if they "really" care. He's helped me work on this though (unknowingly). Although i'm not sure if that could also be my 8h Venus.

I definitely do need to get in touch with my ideals when it comes to relationships. I guess I have an unrealistic view regarding them. I grew up watching a lot of Disney Channel, romance films, and reading tons of romance books (literally the only genre I would read) so I expect this whole "thing" like a guy chasing me down in an airport expressing his love for me or standing outside my window with a boombox. Maybe I am a narc... Anyway, not saying that that's totally unrealistic but I do think I need to tone it down a bit. I also find it difficult to approach anyone (especially boys) so that can't be helping.

Thank you for this wonderful analysis PurpleBulbous! I'll make sure to see about that spring cleaning. Maybe i'll give therapy a try as a way to help me on that path.

Thank you for this response, I truly appreciate it. It was very insightful, I have had issues with both my parent figures in those similar ways throughout my childhood. Yet, I have always been more drawn towards the men in my family and have looked up to them as opposed to the women (I am a F). Now that I am older my relationship with my father has completely taken a 180 and I am not sure how to process it.
